The Nuts and Bolts of Digital Video

Hall Davidson

Director, Discovery Educator Network

Discovery Communications

(Discovery Channel, Discovery Education)

Host of the California Media & Multimedia Festival

Learn to create and integrate digital video for teachers and students. Create media and multimedia with elements from ready-made Internet resources: "Construction kits" for building great videos without camcorders. Learn to integrate digital media into your classroom with minimum management hassles. Find keys to royalty-free music, images, and video to tap for the content area. Finally, learn to incorporate original videos from camcorders (and other devices). Enhance them with cool (cheap) software. Bring your own digital still or video cameras for hands-on learning. We'll supply the computers!
